- We are asking you to take part in a study conducted by researchers at the University of California, Irvine. Participating in this study is optional.
- If you choose to be in the study, you will complete a survey. You will be asked to select a set of courses that will lead to graduation for a fictional set of major course requirements. This survey will help us learn more about how course requirements affect the courses that students select. The survey will take no more than 25 minutes to complete. You will be compensated $6 for participation and an additional $3 for each course plan you complete up to a total of $12 for completing the full survey.
- You cannot take part in this study if you are under 18.
- You can skip questions that you do not want to answer or stop the survey at any time. The survey is anonymous, and no one will be able to link your answers back to you. Please do not include your name or other information that could be used to identify you in the survey responses. We will keep your answers confidential and will not share your personal information with anyone outside the research team.
- If you have any comments, concerns, or questions regarding the conduct of this research please contact the researchers listed at the top of this form.
- If you have questions or concerns about your rights as a research participant, you can contact the UCI Institutional Review Board by phone, (949) 824-6662, by e-mail at IRB@research.uci.edu or at 141 Innovation, Suite 250, Irvine, CA 92697.

What is an IRB? An Institutional Review Board (IRB) is a committee made up of scientists and non-scientists. The IRB's role is to protect the rights and welfare of human subjects involved in research. The IRB also assures that the research complies with applicable regulations, laws, and institutional policies.
